

We Help Build Leaders

DPI is committed to developing all our employees' skillsets and leadership acumen. We do this through many endeavors, including our dedicated Leadership Academy, direct and ongoing interaction with our CEO, John Sikes, and everyone in DPI's management. We pride ourselves on developing a plan with each new employee to help chart their paths to their desired success.

A Quick Bit About Us

DPI Anesthesia was established in 2003 to help hospitals and surgery centers with anesthesia needs. We optimize full-service anesthesia offerings to ensure clients and employees succeed across the perioperative continuum. Our approach leads to greater operational efficiencies, significant cost savings, and successful patient outcomes. The DPI leadership is highly accessible, continuously working on clients' businesses and building trusted relationships through a principled and family-oriented culture.

A Lot About You

Yes, that's the way we look at things. We make it about you. You can become a crucial contributor to our culture and our collective successes— and you will experience the direct, continuous, full support of our leadership team. Our compensation, benefits, and added value terms are plentiful:

- We provide a supportive and empathetic environment
- Competitive compensation with comprehensive benefits, including robust profit sharing and 401k plan
- We bring top, expert anesthesia talent together
- We assemble the most effective staffing mix of anesthesiologists and CRNAs
- We like to provide staffing flexibility for all while recognizing the ultimate intangible that emanates from our core values
